VOLUME 28

JEFFERSON HIGH SCHOOL

LAFAYETTE, INDIANA

DE

DICATION

Dear Mother and Dad,

Every year a yearbook, "The Nautilus," is published at Jefferson High School to help the students bring back to mind in later years thoughts and pleasant memories of days spent here. To a person or some persons whom we think the most deserving, we dedicate this book.

The staff has spent long hours on this twenty-eighth volume. It is with tense feeling that we put it into the hands of the student body. Since we have endeavored to make it represent Jefferson ideals and spirit, we shall consider our time and work well spent if it accomplishes this aim.

We have spent many happy days here at Jeff and perhaps some less pleasant. We sometimes wonder how we would have fared if there had not been your guiding hand always in the background. Many times our egos needed bolstering up. Sometimes we were riding too high, but your wise counsel made practically everything run more smoothly.

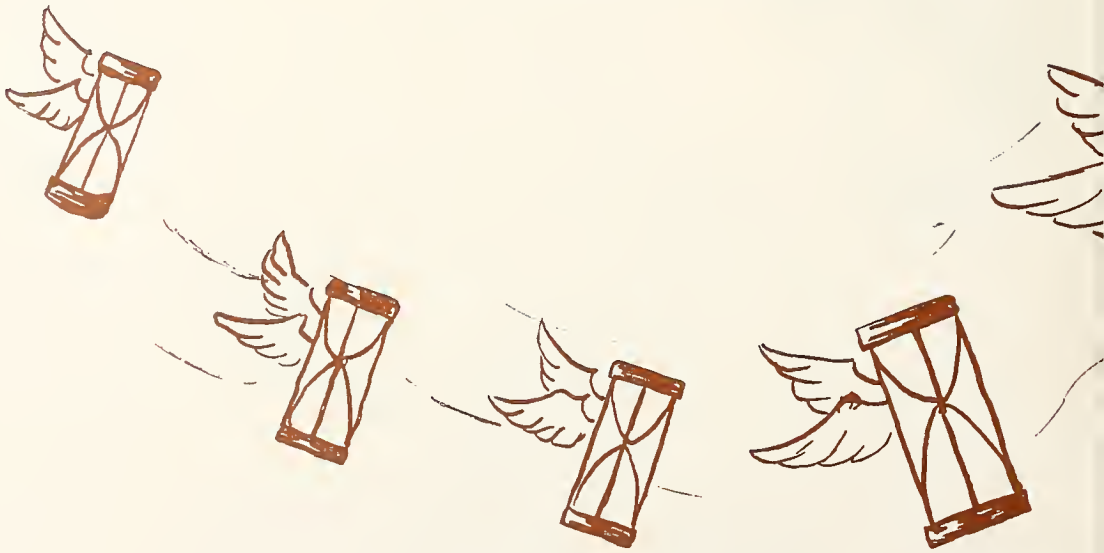
We remember our first big dance. Yes, Jane could have a new dress, and Junior could have the car. Of course it meant Mother doing without the new hat she wanted and Dad walking to the lodge meeting. But always we were granted those somewhat, perhaps, insignificant wants we considered so important. We remember when your dear son went out for football. You were sure, Mother, a broken neck was in the offing. But Dad's hearty laughter said, "It will make a man of him."

After all is said and done, we realize more than some give us credit for, how helpless our endeavors and unwise our moves would have been but for your never-failing guidance. We haven't been very demonstrative in our thanks to you for enduring all the concern we have caused you, all the trouble of putting us through school. That we can make something of ourselves and accomplish our desires has been your only goal. We hope some day we can make it all up to you.

We, the staff of the 1941 Nautilus, in the name of the Senior Class, hereby dedicate this volume to you, Mother and Dad, in recognition of your memorable services as a parent, a teacher, and a companion; whose sense of humor has made heavy hours light, and whose sympathy and understanding have been an ever present aid and encouragement. May this book be a symbol of our highest esteem given in truest sincerity and respect to your inspiring and never ending efforts.

With loving devotion,

Your Sons and your Daughters.



Jeff
erson

We have carried the theme, "Parents", throughout the division pages of this book by pictures of the mothers and fathers through the ages. These scenes include the stone age, the pilgrims, the "gay nineties", the 1920's, and our modern 1941.

Senior Class History

The last year of the most important four years of school life for two hundred and eighty students of Jefferson High School came to an abrupt end on an evening in June, 1941.

Looking back to the many happy days spent in the wide corridors of Jefferson, there are many happy thoughts of friends made, both older classmen whom we looked up to, and under-classmen, to whom we considered it our responsibility to be helpful in every way.

Although leaving this school, which we love and appreciate with deepest sincerity, we shall return to football and basketball games to cheer for the old Alma Mater. Many a thrill was given to us our last year by the football and basketball teams, and we will not forget them next year nor the year after when our wholehearted support is most needed.

This year at the half time of each basketball game the band participated in an opening ceremony in which the school colors and the American Flag were presented. First, everyone was standing in silent salute to the flag, then there were rousing cheers as the three lively drum majorettes appeared to lead their school song. The many attending students, teachers, parents, and boosters for the Broncos were thrilled by this spectacle. Such cheers and sportsmanship has led many a Jefferson Senior on to victory, and even when in doubt, they have had the school support to back them.

The Senior Class Committee made the last few weeks worth remembering for the Seniors, with dances and parties. The Senior Dance, this year held in May, was, as always, the most important and most delightful affair of the season with the girls turning out in bright and shining new clothes with their "man of the hour" beside them. Corsages are always the largest and hours the latest at this time.

The treat of the season is the Senior Play, (this year being "Young April") and the Senior Convocation is also a thing to look forward to. Although many good convocations are presented at Jeff, this is the only one that has the students' whole hearted support.

As spring drew near in the years past and the showers dimmed the streets outside, always there was a note of cheer through Jeff, because we knew that all the happiness in the world was right here at our doorstep because of the friends we had. Everyone was looking forward to summer vacation with a smile. Remember the tennis, swimming, bicycle riding and other sports enjoyed after the first green buds on the trees and bushes had popped out? We were always enthusiastic to get to those summer sports but when summer came we were right back to one of the old "hang outs" to look for the gang and see what they were up to. Then soon summer was on the wane and we were back to school again, good naturedly teasing the preps, who could usually take it.

These are traditions to be proud of, Seniors — for Jefferson is truly American.

First row . . . Rancherettes . . . Why so sober, Dave? . . . "Sunshiners" ready to go to District Sunshine Convention. . . . Second row . . . There are smiles . . . Schultz—there, there litt'e girl . . . Steadies . . . Posin' . . . Daydreaming. . . . Third row . . . Ah, spring . . . Riddle and Scott ready to go "Joeing" . . . Convc—well, Abe? . . . Fourth row . . . Watch the birdie . . . Murdoch pulling a fast one . . . Long and Bahls—tell me more . . . School's out, hurrah! . . . Our choice—Senior Class Officers.

CLASSES

"SOAP" AMOS

"Soap" Amos, a junior at Jeff, died early in the morning of February 7, of injuries he had received the preceeding night when he was struck by an automobile.

His full name, Stanley Eugene, was seldom used. He was just "Soap" to all his friends, and he had many.

The spirit which Soap so typified, was echoed in the words of Mr. Miller, dean of boys. "He was a fine type of youth and one who will not soon be forgotten by his friends. He was a boy of high ideals and citizenship."

Underclassmen Histories

JUNIORS—We entered Jefferson in the fall of nineteen thirty-eight and traveled the road "Freshman" for two semesters. We were guided along this road marked by signs such as Booster Dance, Red and Black Revue, football teams, basketball teams, and the senior play, dance, and convocation. We were headed for the sign marked "Sophomore." After one year of hard study and work, we passed the sign Sophomore, and entered the world beyond that sign. There we found signs very similar to those which marked our freshman year. However, these signs now meant a great deal more to us and we took part in these events with greater spirit and enthusiasm.

At the end of this path was a world beyond a sign marked "Junior," which we soon passed. Overcome by love of Jefferson we set out to do our best for our school. Again came the familiar signposts and again we participated with greater enthusiasm than the last time. In passing through these years we have, each time, become better acquainted with more people and customs and have been spurred on by the spirit and enthusiasm they have shown.

After next June we shall take over the leadership of Jefferson High School. We shall be the senior class and shall have come to the sign marked "Senior." We are looking forward to what lies behind this sign.

In a general summary of our years, we have proceeded as any ordinary class, and have participated in most extra-curricular activities with our best will. We think that in our senior year we shall be looked upon as a class of good morale and shall set the example for the leaders, to do our share and help promote a general good feeling toward Jefferson High School.

Harry Edwards, '42.

SOPHOMORES—Last year we were freshmen. After we passed through the traditional period of fear and bewilderment of all "preps," we soon flew through our freshman year with flying colors, emerging as sophomores. As we started our second year as members of Jefferson High School, we found that we were expected to carry on the customs and traditions of our predecessors. We have tried to maintain these standards to the best of our ability. We were glad to have passed the freshman hurdle, a mere beginning in our course through school. We are now ready to pass the final hurdle of our sophomore year; then we have our junior and senior gaps to fill.

During our sophomore year we have participated in our second Red and Black Revue and we have enjoyed the numerous convos offered to us. We have attended the various dances and mixers held by the clubs and organizations. Many of us have joined the different organizations such as the Hi-Y, the Sunshine Society, the G. A. C., and various other clubs throughout the school. Many of us have competed in the mathematics and Latin contests. Several of our class are members of the band, orchestra, and glee clubs.

We shall look forward to our future years at Jefferson with anxiety and hope that they shall hold in store for us the events and pleasures that we have seen in our past years.

FRESHMEN—Last fall, we, the graduating classes of the grade schools of Lafayette, were emptied into the stately hall of Jefferson to begin a scholastic life entirely new to us. We were awed with the massiveness and unusual customs of a high school. We were not accustomed to changing classes every hour, storing our books in our own lockers, and having to make each class in five minutes. All of these and several other points were explained by our guides who showed us through these halls. This soon became a habit to us as time progressed. By the end of the first semester, we had accomplished many things. We felt at home now, and felt as if we were full-fledged members of the Jefferson student body.

To the girls a major factor in our "catching on" to the ways of "Jeff" was the help of our "Big Sisters" from the Sunshine Society. Each girl entering Jefferson had a Big Sister who acted as her guide and we relied upon these girls to help us solve our problems. We are greatly indebted to these girls for helping us enjoy the treats of Jefferson sooner. The freshman boys seemed to find their way around by themselves.

As the year progressed we took part in our first Red and Black Revue. We followed the football and basketball teams through the season with our greatest support. The numerous dances and mixers were attended by many of us. The senior play, senior dance, and senior convo held our attention through the spring.

Having overcome our fears of the newness and different customs of "Jeff," we are no longer afraid of the teachers or the upperclassmen who seemed to be on hand to taunt us should we do the least thing wrong. We shall soon pass on through the years of high school and shall look back on our freshman year as one which we enjoyed the most, despite the fact that we went through the first few weeks in fear and anxiety. Considering everything, our freshman year has been very interesting and educational and we are looking forward to the next year when we are sophomores, with the hope that it will be the same.

FACULTY

THE SCHOOL BOARD . . . . Above is pictured the School Board of Lafayette which directs and controls the school city. These are the "men behind the scenes" who receive little praise or notice for their splendid work. Being a member of this Board means accepting many responsibilities. These men determine the amount of money needed to finance the schools, make out the budget for the school city, and act as a "go-between" for the taxpayers and teachers. Members are appointed by the City Council for a term of three years and at the end of this time are re-appointed or replaced. They are in turn treasurer, secretary, and president in their first, second, and third years' membership, respectively. This year Mr. Paul F. Royster, who is completing his second term or sixth year, served as president. Mr. Harry C. Smith, in his fourth year, was the secretary while Dr. R. G. Ikins held the office of treasurer.

TION

Mr. McCarty, Superintendent of Schools

Deans: Miss Slayback, Mr. Miller

EXECUTIVE . . . . Mr. McCarty is an example of "local boy makes good". Born in Lafayette, he attended Jeff and Purdue. He taught at the University of Kentucky and at Montmorenci before coming to Jeff as principal in 1931. Two years later he was made superintendent, and he has held both positions since then.

Miss Slayback was born in Dayton, and attended Jeff and Purdue. In 1922 she came to Jeff as a teacher and became dean of girls in 1936. She is the sponsor of the Sunshine Society and the Girls' Advisory Council.

Mr. Miller is a native of Lafayette and attended Lafayette High school. While in high school he held the state high jump record. He came to Jeff in 1928 and became dean of boys in 1932.

FACULTY

JEFFERSON HIGH SCHOOL

Miss Anderson, of Lafayette, graduated from Jeff in 1924, and naturally she thinks Jeff students are the best ever. Her favorite food is chocolate ice cream.

Mrs. Clark, who resides in Lafayette, says her favorite food is "everything". She thinks Jeff students are "tops".

Miss Fenton, of Lafayette, says her favorite foods are fried chicken and coconut cake. Of Jeff students she says —"What would we do without them?"

Miss Fleming says, "Jeff students always come through with flying colors." Her favorite food is "thick juicy steak and coffee". Miss Fleming is also from Lafayette.

Mr. Hadley, of Danville, Indiana, says that his favorite food is "whatever my wife cooks". (Loyal, isn't he?.) What he thinks of Jeff students? "That depends".

Miss Kennedy, of Lafayette, uses this quotation to describe Jeff students—"Right or wrong—our students—God bless them". She says her favorite food is "good" food.

Miss Norman comes to Jefferson from Lizton, Indiana.

Mr. Rogers, of St. Louis Crossing, Indiana, says his favorite food is chicken. He thinks Jeff students are "O. K.".

Miss Ryan is also from Lafayette.

Miss Wood has her home in Lafayette also.

Miss Fletemeyer, of Lafayette, says of Jeff students—"Most of them are a constant joy—just a few are nuisances". Her favorite food is candy.

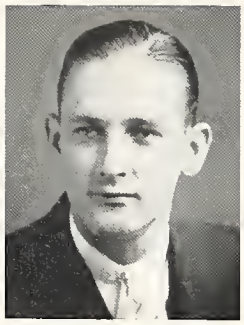
Mr. Harbaugh, of Port Huron, Michigan, says his favorite food is ice cream. He describes Jeff students with one word—"epicureanistic."

Mr. Hinshaw, of Lafayette, says his favorite food is beef steak. He thinks Jeff students are "a fine bunch of young Americans".

Mr. Maurer, from Center Point, Indiana, says of Jeff students—"they're tops"—and then as an after-thought—"most of them". His favorite food is fried chicken.

Miss Tubbs, of Lafayette, says, "Our students are a grand bunch of people". Her favorite food is a fancy sundae with lots of whipped cream.

Mr. Webb, of Bedford, Indiana, says his favorite food is "beef". He says he thinks "Jeff students will rank with the best".



FACULTY ★ ★ ★ ★

Mr. Kenzler, of West Lafayette, has no preference in foods. He thinks Jeff's students are "99 44/100 O. K." (some figures!)

Mr. Lane, from Greencastle, says his favorite food is beef steak. He thinks the students of Jeff are "harmless but lazy".

Mr. Leverenz, of Lafayette, thinks Jeff students are "a great bunch". For food he'll take steak and all the trimmings.

A TRIBUTE

TO REAL TEACHERS EVERYWHERE

"A builder builded a temple,
He wrought it with grace and skill;
Pillars and groins and arches
All fashioned to work his will.
Men said, as they saw its beauty,
'It shall never know decay;
Great is thy skill, O builder!
Thy fame shall endure for aye.'

A teacher builded a temple
With loving and infinite care,
Planning each arch with patience,
Laying each stone with prayer.
None praised her unceasing efforts
None knew her wondrous plan,
For the temple the teacher builded
Was unseen by the eyes of man.

Gone is the builder's temple,
Crumbled into dust;
Low lies each stately pillar,
Food for consuming rust.
But the temple the teacher builded
Will last while the ages roll,
For that beautiful unseen temple
Is a child's "immortal soul."

COACHES

The great American inspiration, Abraham Lincoln, once made the statement, "All I am, and all I hope to be, I owe to my mother." All Jeff athletics are and all they'll ever be, they owe to the fine trio of men now managing the major sports in our cherished institution.

A. B. "Abie" Masters, head coach, has established himself in the hearts of Jefferson's faculty, students, alumni, and fans. His friendly smile and personality wins him the respect and admiration of all his acquaintances at first contact. It wasn't, however, until he came to work at Broncoville, that he really became recognized—as the "Bleacher Bare-a-tone" with the changing voice.

"Abie" is the possessor of two able assistants, namely, "Chuck" Harbaugh and "Orv" Martin. These two young men relieve Coach Masters of many burdens and worries because of the fact that they have proven their sterling dependability. The boys with whom they work have come to understand and model these examples of sportsmanship and clean-living. "Chuck", with his glib tongue, and "Orv", with his squared shoulders and head held high rate "tops" with a lot of others besides the Mastermen.

YELL LEADERS

Look! Up in the ether! It's a blitzkrieg! It's a tidal wave! Naw, Chum, it's only the glorious sound of a Jeff cheering section in action under the supervision of Head Yell Leader Jim Metzger and his rip-roarin' staff of guys 'n gals. Ah the gals . . . sweet young things that they be. The fountains of encouragement . . . to yell. This stellar group is a part of the strange Paradise that is Jefferson. They use no intricate routines, yet when they lead a yell, the student body puts forth its "all."

Jefferson is proud of its Yell Leaders. They're classy.

The season of 1940-41 saw a new style of football played upon the Jeff Plateau.

In organizing this year's team Abie Masters made a statement which gave promise of a successful season. He said, "We won't have to be very good to be better than last year, and I certainly like the looks of this team." Masters is noted for his foresight because, when he makes a statement about any outfit, he has based his convictions on practical facts. Abie's statement hit the jackpot for, at the end of the grid season, Jefferson of Lafayette was rated one of the best all-around elevens in the North Central loop.

The Jeff schedule saw two new opponents in the form of Washington and Manual. These teams replaced Frankfort and Logansport who were ruled out of league competition.

Masters had eleven veterans or semi-veterans back from 1939 and from them formed a substantial nucleus for this year's outfit.

In rubbing out Manual, the initial foe of the season, the Mastermen introduced a new style of ball for Jefferson High. Instead of slow marches down the field and bruising line plunges, we see the Broncos playing fast, accurate ball. Delayed passes were pulled down by little men who weren't there; end runs preceded laterals. In tight places they resorted to rougher methods, but on the whole their play centered on end runs.

Row 1—Dicks, H.; Naville, F.; Vaughan, B.; Biggs, M.; Washburn, C.; Snyder, J.; Agnew, B.; Reser, T.; Murphy, M.; Koerner, W.; Scheer, S.

In the Tech game, Jeff seemed to "cover the waterfront" as illustrated by interceptions and recovery of fumbles.

The C'ville game brought out a weak spot in the Jeff style. They play offensive ball only. When they lost possession of the pigskin, they immediately lost control of the game.

As a result of the C'ville game, the Broncos changed their form in the middle of the season. Things being new to them, they lost the Shortridge game. We noticed a great deal of power coming from a very small line. The defeat of Rensselaer, 19-0, the first time by any team since 1938, indicated the change to be for the best. Some fans felt that this was the greatest victory for the Broncos in a long, long time.

The Jeffmen have averaged 20 points more per game this year than last, which is a very good improvement.

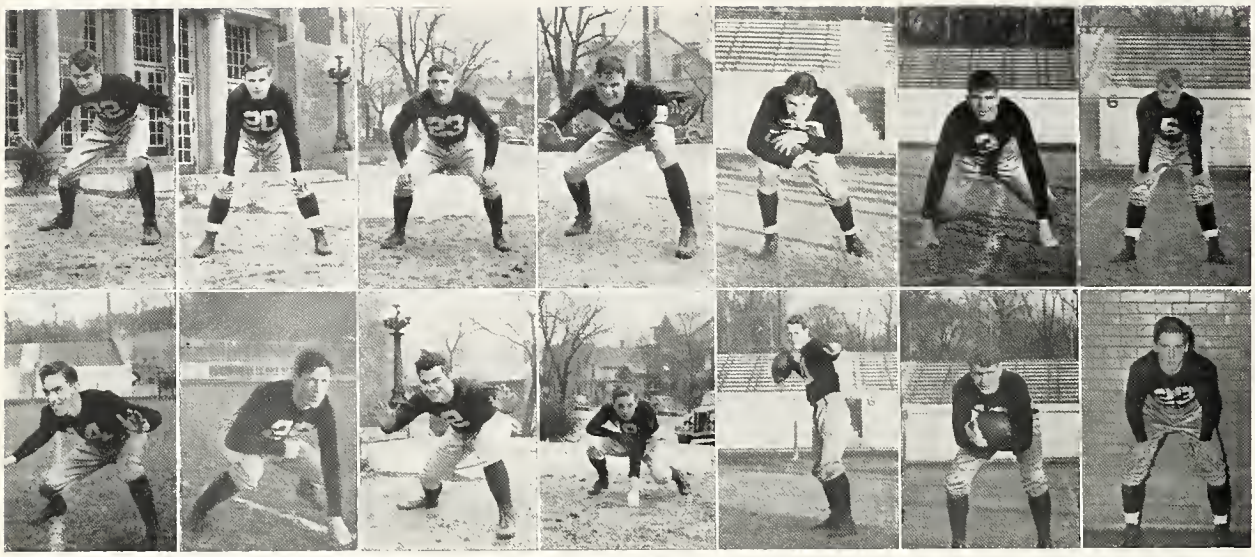
Jefferson's steady fight to hold Kokomo to a 6-6 draw brought out some of the admirable parts of Jeff's new style.

The boys from Broncoville were showing off when they let Washington carry the fight to no avail.

Postponed until next paragraph due to rain.

The Jeff-West Side game was a battle of spirit. Both teams played football automatically.

This 1940-41 squad is undoubtedly one of the greatest to come out of Jeff in a long time.



Row 1—Reser, Ted, End; Agnew, Bob, Quarterback; Deerr, John, Halfback; Sexton, Burton, End; Naville, Francis, Fullback; Snyder, Max, Tackle; Lechlitner, Eugene, Fullback.
Row 2—Hammel, Lloyd, End; Cors, Bernard "Boonie", Guard; Halsema, Bob, Tackle; Bower, Charles, End; Gavan, "Scoot", Quarterback; Brown, Jim, Halfback; Ulm, Bob, Halfback.

Jeff, 25-Manual, 0—If you hear any reverberations in the air, it's only because of the bang with which Jeff started its football season. The game had barely gotten under way when Jeff got possession of the ball by a bad kick and Ulm galloped to score. Just a few minutes later, Jeff recovered and Lecklitner plowed through from the 5. Manual threatened in the second by bringing the ball to the 8 yard stripe, however, the Broncos recovered on the next play. They marched until the third when Ulm circled around right end for a 17 yard payoff, 18-0. Early in the fourth a shovel pass, Lecklitner to Ulm plus the point from the kick, made it 25-0.

Jeff, 12-Tech, 6—The local boys made good in the city. After a really tough battle, Jeff downed the supposedly superior Tech aggregation. Bob Ulm started festivities with a 32 yard run from a hole in right end. Hanna, of Tech, tied the score in the last of the second after a punishing jaunt down the sidelines. Jeff swam around in the Green Wave until late in the fourth, when Bern Cors intercepted a Tech aerial and ran the length of the field for what everyone thought to be a touchdown, but the ball was brought back to the 23 where Jeff had supposedly clipped. Biggs carried the ball to the 11, and from here Ulm ran for pay dirt.

Jeff, 7-Crawfordsville, 21—There's a big noise from C'ville in the form of John Frees, a senior. This lad put on a show which will long be remembered in Lafayette. The Mastermen were far superior to the Athenians and would have destroyed them had it not been for the dual personality of Frees. Ulm, in a gallant effort to stop a second touchdown run, was injured and left the game. Frees scored again in the third. To the woe of C'ville, Jeff resurrected in the fourth to such an extent that the Athenians were penalized for unnecessary roughness. A short but tough run by Biggs plus a kick by Bern Cors accounted for the Jeff score.

Jeff, 0-Shortridge, 12—A well-organized Blue Devil team handed Jeff its second defeat of the season. Shortridge was applauded for the fact that it chalked up 13 first downs. There were no outstanding runs or passes which aided the Devil victory; just a steady march of average gains. Jeff threatened in each period. Brown and Leck in the second, a backfield combo in the third, and the whole team in the fourth. Most commendable was the defensive work of Max Snyder and the yard gains by Lecklitner.

Jeff, 19-Rensselaer, 0—This game erased all memory of the Shortridge defeat. A championship Jeff team was on the field, in fact it was all over the field. This was the Bombers first defeat in 14 consecutive games. Both Vaughan and Ulm showed plenty of stamina when each plowed over from the one yard line. Score at the half, 13-0. Ulm opened the second half with an 85 yard run on the kickoff. With such form as this, Jeff should give Kokomo a real massacre.

Jeff, 6-Kokomo, 6—Said encounter is a living proof of the grit of these Broncos. The local talent successfully countered the Kokomo aerial attack in typical Marine style: they soon had the situation well in hand. After seeing Lecklitner plow through the Kats line, I'm disgusted with the mechanical plow. A freak play by Van Cleve accounted for the Kokomo score. Only bad luck kept Jeff from scoring in the third during their very, very rough threat.

Jeff, 8-Washington, 0—Jefferson's Broncos proved to be superior mudders. The Washington team might as well have left its attack at home. Jeff held the Hatchets to one first down and something like 37 yards gained for the entire ball game. Lecklitner scored on a smash play in the second. Ulm was a treat with his running and kicking in the mud. A safety by Snyder and Naville was the crowning garland, since several prominent sports peers picked Washington to defeat Jeff, on its own field at that. The Bronco reserves had a chance to show off . . . and did. This was the longest trip since 1937 for the Jeffmen.

Jeff, 0-West Side, 0—East meets West for a scoreless game. Such was Lafayette's own grid classic. True, the Red Devils outgained Jeff 183 yards to 59, but the Mastermen also repulsed four Red Devil drives in the shadow of the goals. West Side opened hostilities with a promising run by Le Bart which was stopped by Agnew. Jeff returned the challenge in the second when Ulm smashed over right end for the necessary yards to rectify a first down. Late in the first half Bob Ulm put the finishing touches to a brilliant football career at Jeff. The ball was shifted to Ulm, who dropped back for a pass; finding no receiver, he fought his way to midfield where a convoy was forming. With this blocking, he ran for a touchdown. BUT, the ref was standing on the 15 blowing loud and long on his horn. Jeff was penalized 5 yards. The Scarlet lads took over as the half ended. Late in the third W. L. started a touchdown splurge which was broken up by a dislodging lunge by Petit and a recovery by Halsema. These Broncos were tough men.

Row 3—Cors, Norman "Nannie", Center; Dicks, Harold, Center; Cordell, Harold, Guard; Vaughan, Jack, End; Washburn, Charles, Guard; Scheer, "Stu", End; Snyder, Max, Tackle.
Row 4—Petit, George, End; Polstra, Bill, Tackle; Young, Jack, End; Koerner, "Nixie", Guard; Vaughan, Bob, Halfback; Naville, Francis, Fullback; Hammel, Lloyd, End; Camperman, Wilbur, Guard.

Jeff, 22-Lebanon, 35—Jeff's initial hardwood scrimmage was all that the word scrimmage implies. The entire game was full of fight and activity. Jeff took an early lead in the first period, making the score 10 to 5. Within five minutes before the gun ended the first half, the Lebanon outfit had rallied six points, bringing the score to 11 to 10 in favor of the Tigers. The third period was the real fight. There were 16 points scored in three minutes. The third quarter ended with a score of 19 to 18. The score was brought up to 28 to 18 in the fourth period. Cors made several breaks and Ulm aided the situation with two free throws. The gun, sounding a half minute ahead of time, brought the boys out of the locker room for a half minute more of play. The absence of Biggs was notable. In view of the fact that they had but one week to prepare for this encounter justifies our defeat.

Jeff, 31-Delphi, 24—The Mastermen put forth their first victory of the season by defeating Delphi 31 to 24 in a game that was slow except for the fourth quarter. The Oracles opened the fracas with a score by Hann. After that, the game was entirely in the hands of the Jeff quintet. The Jeff men led the quarters with the following scores: first, 6 to 3; second, 15 to 12; third, 23 to 17; fourth, 31 to 24. Outstanding men in this game were Hann of Delphi and Ulm of Lafayette. By a queer quirk of fate these two boys have traded places on their representative teams. Hann formerly played with Jefferson, Ulm with Delphi. As before stated, each of these boys performed notably before their former teammates and followers. Delphi made its vie for victory in the third quarter. However this was offset by strong defensive play by the boys of the Red and Black. This game showed evidence of the hard work the Jeff team had been doing since their defeat by Lebanon. On a whole the team was working with greater accuracy and smoothness than had been seen in many encounters.

Jeff, 27-Logansport, 19—The Broncos went off to an impressive opening at the North Central Conference games. For their opening game they were pitted against the strong Berries team from Logansport. This was the first defeat of the season for the Logansport men. Jeff's smooth, cool ball handling was an outstanding feature. This picture ties Jeff for the loop lead. Both teams were handicapped by the absence of veterans. This fact alone enhances the grimness of this victory for Jeff. The game was mediocre up until the fourth period. The Berries desperately tried to mentally upset the Jeff boys by attempting to play fast ball. However, the Jeff men slowed the game down to a pace where they could control action. This expressed promise for the future games of the "Master" men. The Berries were held scoreless in the last six minutes, as the Broncos refused free throws in order to maintain possession of the ball.

Jeff, 24-Richmond, 33—The Jeff men received their second defeat of the season in the hands of the strong Richmond team. This defeat placed Richmond in first place for conference lead. It seemed as though the Jeff boys were upset. Their defense was good, but somehow their offensive breaks seemed to roll away from the basket. It must have been an off night. It was only a last minute rally on the part of Richmond which brought about the Jeff downfall. Outstanding men for Jeff were Biggs and Ulm. Cors' long distance shots were also very outstanding. The Red Devils, well aware of Jeff's inability to hit, shot as frequently as possible. The smooth playing, evident in so many past games, was again the outstanding factor for Jeff's scoring.

Jeff, 44-Newcastle, 45—The Jeff boys received the second defeat in two nights, as a fighting five from Newcastle grimly battled for a conference position. This game kept the fans on edge every minute of the time, since both teams were hitting exceptionally well, as the score indicates. The Jeff men were on a rampage. Everyone had conceded that there would be a "hot time in the old town tonight" until the last lucky shot by Newcastle. Biggs, Vaughan, and Ulm each had "his" quarter. Ulm scored three baskets and two free throws in the second quarter. Biggs was a one man show in the third quarter. He scored 10 points by fast and accurate play. Ulm brought laurel to his brow by the spirit in which he entered into the last six minutes of play. He carried the entire game to Newcastle. It was only because of last minute possession of the ball that Newcastle scored. Jeff looked well that night.

Jeff, 24-Anderson, 31—We witness another off night contest, as Jeff was defeated by another fourth period rally. But for all the slip shod playing, the game was interesting to watch and although never ahead long, Jeff was in a challenging position until the last few minutes of the affray. The Broncos lost their best chance to overtake the Indians in the early stages of the fourth quarter. Anderson took advantage of the desperate stand made by Jeff, and assuming the roll of smooth play, which had characterized the Jeff men in their past games, pulled away to victory. The game got away slowly with Ulm and Agnew leading the attack in the fourth quarter. In view of the opponent Jeff looked very good.

Jeff, 20-West Side, 21—It was a surprised crowd that departed from the Jeff hardwood after the game. Victory for Jeff had been conceded and up until the late third, anyone would have given odds on Jefferson. It would be futile to attempt to set into print the numberless thrills of the game, but let it be summarized thusly: Five West Side netters fought their very hearts out to defeat the favored Jeffmen, and seemed well on the road to victory in the first half, only to see the Broncos rally to tie the score at 18 in the opening minutes of the fourth. In the face of this turnabout the West Siders buckled down to a "last stand" and made it 21-18 on a basket by Marshall and a free throw by Shriner. This was with four minutes remaining, and after a scoreless minute, Holmes flipped one through from the side to pull Jeff within a point of the Devils. From here on, it was a battle royal for the ball, with players diving, smashing and fighting to get possession of the ball.

Jeff, 28-Kokomo, 31—The Mastermen were handed bitter defeat at the hands of Kokomo. This was also another conference loss for Jeff. The Broncos were showing altogether a reversal in hardwood form of that Wednesday night, as they again lost to the Kokomo Giants. The Red and Black clan from Broncoville fought the rangy Kats virtually off their feet during the later stages of the affair, but lost three of their best players when they were needed most. It's some consolation to know that Kokomo was outplayed.

Jeff, 27-Shortridge, 33—This loss was the sixth straight defeat for Jeff. It was most certainly a nip and tuck game throughout; in fact it changed its lead seven times during the game. The Broncos seemed to be full of pep, but somehow they just couldn't hit. The Master Five, Agnew, Brown, Cors, Ulm, and Lange, worked like a clock. That Agnew boy had a knack of getting inside defenses and grabbing the ball at random.

Jeff, 21-Frankfort, 37—A fighting but discouraged Jeff team lost to Frankfort, 37-21. It seemed as though hard luck had taken a liking to the Broncos. Frankfort, playing careless but lucky ball, penetrated the Jeff defensive with long range shots. The Broncos made their strongest bid for a win late in the first. The driving tactics of the desperate Jeffmen seemed embarrassing to the Hot Dogs. All was lost when the Jeffmen lost their heads and started matching shots with Frankfort. Vaughan was the star of the affray with his smooth ball handling.

Jeff, 30-Muncie, 36—The down-trod Broncos tried desperately for a victory in the local gym. Schrader, playing the greatest game of his career, was the star. The fans enjoyed a battle of coaches, between two supposedly mild fellows, over the large number of fouls. Some admired the close refereeing. Tootie seemed made for a center. From the middle of the third until the end of the game, Jeff showed considerable promise over past performances. They were back to their usual smooth form.

Jeff, 38-Lebanon, 39—This was the fastest game of the season, sixth straight victory for Lebanon, ninth loss for Jeff. For approximately four quarters, it was conceded that Jeff would be victorious. Not only did the Broncos outscore the Tigers 13-9 from the field, but they also led 33-28 in the third. After finding a hole in the Jeff defense the Lebanon boys tied the score in the last two minutes of the third quarter. The Tigers made their winning point in the last four minutes of the game.

Jeff, 25-Tech, 31—This was the tenth straight loss for Jeff. It was the third straight North Central Conference win for Tech. The Mastermen were again defeated by a last minute rally. Trouble seemed to lie in inability to hit and carry the fight to the end of game. This game followed much in the footsteps of the preceding one. Victory was near until the last quarter. Again, Jeff outscored the opponent from the field.

Jeff, 26-Marion, 33—This makes the eleventh straight loss for the Broncos. A run of bad luck and a tough schedule is taking its toll of Jeff. In spite of their defeat, the Mastermen looked the best of the season during the first half of the game. The presence of smooth, calm play was noticeable. The entire second half was a mixup. Jeff's early lead was tied in the second by the Giants. The Broncos staged a short rally in the fourth with Holmes stealing the ball and Schrader getting the rebounds.

Jeff, 28-Logansport, 21—At long last! The Broncos have ended their losing streak. Playing a straight game in the first three periods, the Broncos held the Berries to a score of 21-14 for that same amount of time. Strong defense prevented rallies. To add to the suspense, the score was 24-20 two minutes before the game ended. Lange handled the 6' 4" guard, Babcock, exceptionally well.

Jeff, 32-Frankfort, 22—It looks as though the jinx is broken, for the Broncos are on the victory march again. The Hot Dogs just couldn't show up against the Jeffmen. Jeff outplayed and outscored Frankfort. This victory places Jeff in the eighth position for loop standings. The Broncos displayed their best form of the year as they held the Hot Dogs to but one score in the first three quarters. Jeff hit 22 of 23 shots. The Mastermen now have revenge for an early season defeat.

Jeff, 30-Crawfordsville, 35—Rugged ball playing by the Athenians brings defeat to a rallying Jeff team. The C'ville lads, in top form, were deadly with their long shots. It is felt by many, that Jeff carried the entire game due to their fiery ball handling. Even up to the last second, the Mastermen were fighting with the same spirit and vigor as used in the opening minutes of the fracas. That Lange boy was certainly hot. Dykhuizen was every bit worth his weight in gold.

Minor Sports . . .

Golf . . .

Dean McMurray

A very polished-looking Bronco "Moundbuilding Association" opened their 1940 golf season in a very satisfactory manner by coming off the greens with a win and a tie. The match, of triangular proportions, pitted the Jeffmen against veteran teams from Peru.

To the dissatisfaction of no one, the Bronco "Clubbers" handed West Side a tee full of sod to the tune of 8-4, which only goes to prove that the air on "this" side of the river is much healthier than the air of "that" side of the river.

Up in the neighborhood of Peru, golf is taught in preference to marbles. So, in that neck of the woods there lives a team of Hayseed Harrowers who swing a mean club. In all respects the Broncos swing their clubs every bit as hard as the Peruvians since the two teams tied, 6-6.

For their second meet of the season, the Broncos toured to Crawfordsville. I give you my word, the entourage from Jeff very emphatically outplayed the C'ville clan. The score of 9½ to 8½ was sheer mercy on the part of the Broncoville squad.

Like all great teams, the Jeff outfit met its Waterloo—a triangular meet on the Peru course, involving Peru, Tipton, and Jefferson. There was undoubtedly something wrong. Maybe the links were tilted, the trees and sand traps magnetized, or something. Upon what do I base my opinion? This: Jeff defeated by Peru, 7-5; Jeff defeated by Tipton, 11½-½.

The Divot Diggers were sponsored by Mr. Kenneth Dobelbower. Dick Brady, Dean McMurray, and Roy Miner were the stars of the team.

1941 TENNIS

Due to the shortage in tennis courts no team was formed this year, much to the disappointment of many tennis fans.

Girls' Tennis . . .

Girls' tennis classes started Saturday, April 26, on the women's courts at Purdue. Miss Fishleigh was in charge of these meets to be held for the next five weeks from 9:30 to 11:30.

Those girls who signed for tennis were: Dolly Duddleston, Mary Farrell, Mary Frances Easterwood, Phil Roberts, Dorothy Cavanaugh, Jane Marie Riegh, Rose Mary Farrell, Helen Sattler, Junia Rogers, Dorothy Watts, Talma Rice, Mary Helen Ream, Elizabeth Maitlin, Dorothy Bausum.

Swimming . . .

Ted Reser

Swimming, invigorating and refreshing, is one of the more recent additions to Jeff's extra curricular activities.

Jeff athletics have fostered neptunis relations for the past two years, but real interest and attention was something we had only dreamed about until this year. When "Abie" issued the call for "guppies", he was quite surprised at the turnout. Realizing the impossibility of using all these boys, he singled out five whom he thought best suited for the team. They were Ted Reser, Bill Heston, Tony Kirkov, Bob Weisbach, and Royal Mathews. Because of the limited facilities for a swimming team at Jeff, it was necessary for the selectees to devote every moment of their spare time to training from outside sources. Therefore, these lads going out for the swimming team were interested enough to form a strong spirit to keep them punching. That Coach Masters can judge men has been proved by the success of the Jeff Swimming Team.

Well aware of the importance of proper training, Abe sought the assistance of Dick Papenguth, coach of the famous Purdue swimming team. The Jeffmen, already well-versed in the fundamentals of aquatic perambulation, swelled to ripeness under the supervision of an expert hand. For weeks they practiced each day from five until six o'clock. Their efforts were not in vain.

Recognition and distinction were brought to the Broncoville tankmen when Captain Ted Reser placed fifth in a state meet. The meet was held April 19, 1941, in the Purdue Fieldhouse, with 15 teams, 124 boys all totaled, participating. It was a notable honor for Jeff to have someone place in this meet, since the competition was with teams from the northern part of the state where swimming is a major sport. On the following Friday night the Jeff quintet were guests at a Purdue-Ohio State meet in which they saw many world record-holders.

The team: Capt. Ted Reser, 100 yard dash and 50 yard dash; Bill Heston, 220 yard free style; Tony Kirkov, medley relay, free style; Bob Weisbach, medley relay, back stroke; Royal Mathews, medley relay, breast stroke.

The 1941 edition of the Jefferson high school baseball team, arranged by Coach Chuck Harbaugh, went on display for the first time Friday afternoon, May 2, when the Broncos opened their season against a veteran Williamsport nine at said locale.

Jeff's current diamond squad was built around three returning regulars: Tootie Schrader, Johnny Deerr, and Norm Cors. Schrader was nominated by the Lafayette mentor as the opening mound choice with Deerr at short and Cors on third.

The remainder of the lineup was made up of underclassmen and first-year baseball performers. Gene Lecklitner, husky little football fullback, was on the receiving end of Schrader's efforts for the first time, with Roy Miner, another senior, opening at first base. Bob Ulm, who played some outfield last year, vied with Kenny Barrett for second base. The outfield at the beginning of the season was the biggest problem. Several freshmen and sophomores showed definite promise and pushed the probable starters for their positions. To start the season in left field was Jim Brown, pitcher and outfielder, with Max Biggs, first year out for baseball, in center, and either Burkhardt, a freshman pitcher and hard hitter, or Sherrier, another hurler, in right. Schrader, when not pitching, took over the outfield berths because of consistent power at the plate.

Chuck Harbaugh had a very promising reserve squad. Provided they gain sufficient experience this season, the Jeff baseballers of 1942 should become somewhat of a legend. Remember this, "Yours truly" also foresees a possibility of the Bronco nine playing a game of night baseball in the new recreational center at Columbian Park with some popular opponent, maybe West Side.

Hy-Y Men . . .

This year the Jefferson Hi-Y, composed of some sixty-eight sophomores, juniors, and seniors of Jefferson High School, sponsored by Mr. George E. Carroll and Mr. Gerald V. Hitchings, accomplished many things of value to themselves and others around the school and community. They ushered at the Horse Show held in the early fall and helped with the Good-Fellow's party at Christmas. They ushered at school plays, the Senior Play and the Musical Comedy, and helped with the "Mile of Dimes" in the Infantile Paralysis Drive, also the Community Fund Drive. These actions and many others fostered a better spirit around Jeff and in other parts of the community.

On February 15 the club sponsored the Queen of Hearts Dance and chose a queen of personality and charm by vote of those attending the dance. Miss Dorothy Kamp, well known senior, received this honor. This dance will be an annual affair and promises to be looked forward to by the entire student body. Another dance, a mixer, after the sectional games, was given jointly with the West Side Hi-Y.

The Hi-Y visited several churches in a body, and several guest speakers were enjoyed during the year. The club is associated with the National Hi-Y Club and several members of the club attended two conventions held during the school year.

The officers elected for the year were as follows: Harold Dicks, President; Bob Vaughan, Vice President; John Anderson, Secretary; and Bill Korty, Treasurer. These boys have directed the club through a very successful year.

G.A.C. . . .

Each spring just before school is dismissed, all girls having twelve credits anxiously await a square white envelope containing a G.A.C. invitation and hope a faculty member has recommended them to Miss Irma Slayback, the sponsor. For a faculty recommendation and twelve or more credits are the requirements for membership in this splendid organization. . . . Meetings are held the third Wednesday in every month, and the dues are thirty cents a year. . . . The purpose of the Council is to give service to the school and to co-operate in order to make all the activities of the school a success. . . . Doris Holtman, president; Mary Devol, vice president; Vivian Brown, treasurer; and Joan Pearlman, secretary, were the capable officers who led the 89 members this year in making the Club's activities a success. The girl who makes you comfortable in the Sunshine Room, if you are feeling ill, is a G.A.C. member as is the girl who brings you a truant slip the "morning after" the first day of Spring, when you couldn't resist succumbing to "spring fever." Remember? They serve as office scouts (which includes collecting and delivering everything), collect attendance slips, and deliver admits. A tea was held for the new members as one of the social activities. Each year those of the group who wish to do so, help serve at the annual Goodfellow's Party and help to make it the well organized affair it has become. Other charity work is also carried on. Several mixers were given, and those attractive red pencils with basketball schedules printed on them were sold by members to help finance the activities. Gay Jeff bandanas which admitted you, "stags and hags," to the Bandana Hop were sold by them. . . . Qualities of leadership are thus developed in the club's members.

Membership to one of Jeff's most worthwhile organizations is open to any girl in school. . . . Sponsored by Miss Irma Slayback, Miss Ruth Sexton, and Miss Betty Ann Florer, the club succeeds nobly in carrying out its purpose of being a worthwhile organization in the school and community. . . . The club meets the third Thursday in each month under the leadership of Margaret Lamb, president; Dorothy Kamp, vice president; and Jacqueline Thoma, secretary. . . . It is a chapter of the state organization, and a bus is usually chartered to take the girls to the convention. . . . This year the "Big Sister" idea was revived after several years. . . . A "get-acquainted" party was held after school in the Cafeteria to enable the new girls to get better acquainted with their "Big Sisters." . . . One of the school's social highlights is the Bronchoette Gallop which has become an annual affair. At this time the boys play "lady for a night", and it is "daughter who pays." . . . The society also helped to sponsor a "Hard Times Dance" for the Infantile Paralysis Fund. A Christmas party for children from Cary Home, assisting with the Good-fellow's Party, contributing to the Community Fund and the Tuberculosis Association, sending Christmas remembrances to Ross Sanatorium patients, aiding worthy students, and sponsoring girl yell leaders are other activities of this efficient group. . . . Money to carry on these activities is obtained by selling candy at football and basketball games and at the candy counter during the noon hour.

Bowlers . . .

Swish! Bang! And some more bowling pins bite the hardwood. Thus it goes every Monday evening after school at the Bowlmore Alleys. The club is in its second year and is rapidly increasing in popularity. Miss Sexton and Mr. Bonham are the sponsors. Officers of the club for the year were: Heman Sherlock, President; Robert Sparrendahl, Vice President; Robert Prien, Secretary. Phyllis Ludwig, Robert Prien, Robert Sparrendahl, Elouise Lawson, Janet Bahls, Mary Devol, Robert Merrillat, and Caroline Snyder were captains. If you are a Jefferson High School student, you are eligible to participate in the bowling league. The purpose of the bowling league is to arouse and increase interest in this sport.

The aspirants bowl two trial games. The eight highest averages are automatically captains. The teams are compiled according to the averages of their trial games. During the season the teams are decided as follows: The first five boys, according to averages in league play, make up the first team; the second team is composed of the next five boys; the five girls with the highest league averages are the members of the girls' team. These teams compete with the respective teams of other schools.

Some of the schools competing this year were: West Lafayette, Kokomo, and Jasper. The Jeff bowlers came out on top in the majority of cases.

The dues are ten cents besides the amount which is paid to the management for bowling. This goes into a prize fund. The prize money is distributed among the bowlers at the end of the year.

Two of the highlights of this year were: The tournaments which were held at the end of the regular season, and the annual banquet held in the Purdue Union which closed a very successful bowling season.

Scientists . . .

The Science Club is a confederation of small sections. They are The Conservation Section, which is the largest, the Elementary Photography Section, the Advanced Photography Section, the Electrical Section, and the Astronomy Section. Meetings of the club are held once a month. Meetings of the sections are held once a week.

Jim Sattler heads the competent student staff which instructs the various sections in their varied fields. The staff is composed of Wayne Carrick, who leads the Elementary Photography; Richard Vellinger, who leads the conservationists; Bradford Howland, who instructs the amateur electricians; Jim Sattler, head astronomer; and Mr. Dobelbower, the sponsor, leads the advanced photographers.

The Science Club is a member of the Indiana Junior Academy of Science. This last spring the Conservation Section raised pheasants in co-operation with the State Conservation Department. After raising them, the club, with the State Conservation Commissioner's approval, liberated them in the country.

Some of the social events of the science club during the past year included a dance, still picture contest, and science club exhibit.

Anyone interested in science may become a member of this club. Club dues are fifty cents for one semester.

The Science Club is the proud possessor of complete dark-room equipment where the members may develop, print, and enlarge their own films. They also have other photographic equipment and an archery set, which helped to make the year a successful one.

Home Ec . . .

Miss Gleela Ratcliffe and Miss Eloise Pierce have once again been the sponsors of one of the most successful clubs in school. The Jeff Home Economics Club was originally started to form a connective link between the home and school and to furnish an opportunity through organization for social life. Each year the club tries to carry out its purpose and aims just a little better than the preceding year. . . . Those girls who have "steered" the club of 38 members this year were: Rachel Danley, President; Nell Kane, Vice President; Hila Maurer, Secretary; Dorothy Baumgardt, Treasurer; and Betty Lee German, Honorary Treasurer. . . . Meetings are held the third Tuesday in each month. . . . Any giry who is interested in Home Economics may join this organization which had dues of five cents a semester this year. . . . Doris Marie Franks and Rachel Danley were delegates to the National Home Economics Club Convention, and Frances Grandstaff was elected secretary. . . . The theme for the year was "Whatever is worth doing is worth doing well." . . . There were many social activities throughout the year. The first semester the girls were the guests of the West Side Club at a tea and style show. This is an annual affair with the clubs alternating as hostesses. . . . At one time, the group was divided into teams of Golds and Browns (club colors) and each tried to outdo the other by selling candy and having a bake sale. Another money making project as well as a social acitivity was the skating party held the first semester. A chili supper in November honoring the former presidents, a faculty tea in February, and a combined mothers' and grandmothers' tea in April were highlights in the club calendar. A picnic in May was the closing event of the year.

Harmonizers . . .

The Boys' Glee Club and Mixed Chorus is composed of sixty boys and girls who possess one of the world's finest accomplishments — being able to sing — and are interested in the further study of music.

They have participated in many activities this year including the Red and Black Revue, the Christmas Cantata by Nolte and Tolliston—a program entitled "The Nativity Song" which featured Marjorie Burkhardt, Mary Ellis Taylor, Bill Shockey, Helen Locke and many others of equal ability — the Spring Festival, the Musical Comedy, and the Graduation Chorus. The Musical Comedy was a program entitled "Carrie Comes to College." Its cast included Margaret Agnew, Mildred Wills, Blanche Smith, Kenneth McDowell, Wayne Smith, Dick Burkhardt, and Bob Yelton.

The Spring Festival, this year held at Frankfort, was a gathering of eight schools united in one large program. Eight of the best singers were then chosen from the group to go to Indianapolis to sing at next year's Teachers' Convention.

Singing, a talent enjoyed by all interested in music, is at its best in the Jefferson High School Glee Clubs and Choruses. The student body can be justly proud of this organization and its very capable director, Miss Camilla White, whose untiring efforts have made all the musical organizations a very marked success.

The officers for the school year 1940-1941 were Bob Prien and Kenneth McDowell, librarians.

Girl Singers . . .

For the past school year, each Tuesday and Thursday the third period, 26 girls have been meeting in room 322 to sing under the competent direction of Miss Camilla White. This composes the Girls' Glee Club which gives musical students a chance to continue their musical education and experience. The organization is sponsored by Miss White who founded the club several years ago. . . . There were no dues this year, but special assessments were made for parties, trips, etc. A good singing voice and the ability to read music and carry a part are the only requirements for membership in this club. . . . The members spent much time and effort during the year to make their vocal offerings as near perfection as possible. In December this club contributed much talent to the Christmas Cantata. . . . "Campus Daze" or "Carrie Goes to College" was the musical comedy presented this year in April, and Delores Goans, a member of the Glee Club, had the lead. Others from the Glee Club who had parts were Margaret Meehan, Marilyn Graves, Mildred Wills, Marilyn Knowles, and Katharine Keys. . . . Also, in the spring, they journeyed with the other music clubs to Frankfort to take part in the district festival. Jeff's solo number was "The Song of Vikings" by Somerville Gibney and Eaton Fening, accompanied by Mary Frances Amos. From this chorus 12 students were chosen to represent Jeff in the All State Chorus held in Indianapolis at the time of the Indiana State Teachers Convention. . . . Several broadcasts were held throughout the year over station WBAA. . . . To end their activities for the year, the club collaborated with the other music organizations to form a chorus to sing at Commencement.

Debaters . . .

Along with Abraham Lincoln and other eminent statesmen of our great country is the place of the debater and the debate team. At Jeff there is a fine opportunity for all interested in this enjoyable and educational activity.

The debate topic for the year 1940-1941 was "Resolved: That the power of the Federal Government should be increased". To start the year the team attended the Purdue Debate Conference on December sixth and seventh and a few of the debaters took part in Purdue's First Annual General Assembly.

The debate group participated in the LaPorte Debate Conference, the New Albany Debate Conference, and the Rushville Debate Conference. They were the hosts to, and participated in, the Tenth District Debate Tournament of the Indiana State Debate League held at Jefferson High School, on Saturday, February 15. The following schools participated: Clarks Hill, Crawfordsville, Fowler, Jefferson, and West Lafayette. Mr. George Earl Carroll, Jefferson's debate coach and sponsor, was district chairman. Crawfordsville won first place, Jefferson second place, and West Lafayette third place.

Debate, one of the many fine extracurricular activities of the school, develops fine oratorical ability. It also increases in the mind of the student a love of competition and prompts him to think logically, to know his subject well, and be able to express his opinion in a winning way.

The debaters for the season who were on the Affirmative team were Kenneth McCarthy, Wesley Peters, Mary Ruth Erb, and Mary Ann Bayley. On the Negative team were Patricia Bauer, Dan Kahle, and Phyllis Ludwig.

The News . . .

Trying to please students, faculty, and sponsors throughout the year — that is this group's job. . . . Headed by the editor-in-chief, George Byers, and Barbara Parsons, assistant editor, they have put out twenty issues of the Booster containing news of interest to students. . . . The editor is the person who supervises everything in general and gets blamed for anything. The assistant takes up where the "ed" leaves off. . . . In his fifth year here as a sponsor of the paper, Mr. J. E. Hadley, journalism instructor, has helped make this year's Booster better than ever before. Mr. E. F. Morgan, printing instructor, is the man who always manages to get the copies out on time in spite of all "obstructions" (which can mean anything), and makes the paper make-up more attractive by utilizing the latest ideas. Mr. G. R. Bradley, financial manager, must make those figures balance. . . . The only social activity is the first school dance of the year — The Booster Dance. This is given each year as a favor to the students if the circulation goal is reached. All subscribers are admitted free. This year Johnny Anderson was the general chairman of the affair. As a result of real effort by the committees, one of the most successful Booster dances ever held took place November 15, in the gym, made festive by special decorations, and filled with the melody of Maury Mahns' orchestra. . . . Mr. Hadley called this year's staff the "best group of reporters I've ever had."

Machinists . . .

The object of the Master Machinists' Club, to create an interest in machine work, is becoming easier to fulfill with the ever increasing need for machinists in our defense industry.

The main work of the Master Machinist is to repair minor breakage and replace minor parts in machinery in the school. Among the things they have made are motor stands, flood lights, spot lights, an electric furnace, drum stands, music stands, and many other articles too numerous to mention.

Officers of the club are: President, William Brickler; Vice President, Harold Hayden; Secretary, Kenneth Deboy; Treasurer, John Kestner; Sponsors, Mr. Wills and Mr. Miller.

The club meets every Friday to hear talks by experienced machinists. Many notable machinists of this city have talked to them at their meetings to illustrate actual industrial work and relations.

The money which they raise by monthly dues, sponsoring dances, skating parties, and other events, is used for the benefit of the club.

These are the boys who work behind the scenes so that the show may go on, operating the spotlights which they made themselves, moving things off and on the stage, which is a necessary factor in all school plays, revues and operettas, and being otherwise useful in any way they are able.

All in all these boys spend several hours in the evenings and after school decorating or helping to produce one of our successful school events.

Girls' Athletics . . .

To further interest in sports among the girls, increase the skills of those especially interested in athletics, and to enjoy associations and friendship in a "play situation" is the purpose of the Girls' Athletic Association. This club is presided over by Marge Cheesman and the chairmen of different sports. . . . This year 50 girls became members. Eligibility consists of earning 10 points in the current year in intramural athletics. . . . The club sponsor is Miss E. J. Aldridge and the teachers in the Girls' Physical Education Department. . . . General meetings are held only when called. Inner clubs are organized according to the sport and each group has a chairman. These clubs held meetings at least weekly during the time that sport is being played. Assessments are paid when needed instead of regular dues. . . . The Girls' Athletic Association plans to join the state G.A.A., but as yet has not been recognized. . . . The intramural program is organized in eight-week cycles. . . . One activity this group has sponsored this year is a social dancing class for boys. Forty-five boys enrolled in the group taught each week by Miss Lucille Anderson. . . . A swimming group went to Purdue each Saturday for that sport. . . . The organization is proud that since its birth, other athletic activities besides basketball have become important. As a result, girls are now playing golf, tennis, volleyball, badminton, shuffleboard, deck tennis, baseball, and are swimming, dancing, and bowling with more enthusiasm than ever before. . . . Speedball was begun a year ago and promises to become more prominent. . . . This spring the organization hoped to hold a track meet for its members. . . . Each girl hopes to win a letter before leaving Jeff. This award is made for participation in intramural sports. As few girls receive this, it is regarded as a high honor.

Artists . . .

The Studio Club is composed of aspiring young artists or those who are interested in art. Miss Kienly, our art teacher, is the sponsor who helps the club to have their interesting meetings and good times. The membership has been increasing each year and is much larger this year than it has been previously. Donald Heath is the president. The Secretary-Treasurer is Kathleen Keys. Business meetings are held once a month in room 309, and social meetings are held once a month in the cafeteria. The purpose of the club is to create a greater interest in the arts and artists of today. The club membership is open to anyone who is interested in art.

Many different contests are entered by members of the club during the year with many honors being won. The two main contests entered were The Scholastic Art Contest and The Youth Forum contest. The Studio Club is a member of the Indiana Federation of Junior Art Clubs. Forty students from Jeff attended the annual state meeting held in the newly remodeled John Herron Art School in Indianapolis. They also visited the museum and attended the exhibit of The Scholastic Contest paintings. Donald Heath is the state president of the Indiana Federation of Junior Art Clubs. This is an honor which has never been bestowed upon any other Jefferson High School student.

Orators . . .

This year those interested in speech merely entered the contests they were interested in, and no regular club was formed. Mr. V. C. Rogers of the English department once again coached these "speech-makers." . . . This year there were only four students who tried out for the honor of representing Jeff in the annual Central Indiana Oratorical contest. Those contenders were Gerald Kungel, John Rogers, Mary Ruth Erb and Ruth Hammel. The representatives that went to Lebanon November 28 for the contest were Gerald Kungel and Mary Ruth Erb. With the oration, "Youth Speaks," Gerald Kungel won third place while Mary Ruth Erb delivered "Unknown." . . . Janet Bahls, Caroline Snyder, Leroy Stokes, Mary Ruth Erb, John Bryan, Robert Prien, and Douglas Buck tried out for the Discussion League contest which was sponsored by the extension division of Indiana University. "Interstate Trade Barriers" was the subject for discussion this year. The contestants carried on a round-table discussion and each made contributions which should not have gone under or exceeded a certain time limit. They were judged on what they said, manner in which they said it, and its bearing on the subject. The public speaking class served as critics for the contest which was held in the auditorium. Mary Ruth Erb, Janet Bahls, and Leroy Stokes were chosen in the first elimination. These students represented Jeff in the district contest held March 29. . . . Vivian Brown was the representative for the state Extemporaneous Speaking contest at DePauw University on April 12. This consisted of speaking on a subject drawn at the contest with a limited amount of preparation and only so many written notes. . . . Mr. Rogers has coached the contests since March, 1923.

Campus Daze . . .

The 1941 musical play for Jefferson High School was "CAMPUS DAZE," a breezy operetta in two acts given April twenty-ninth and thirtieth. The action takes place in the yard of Ma Jenkins' boarding-house near Beetax College.

Spencer Goodnow, played by Dick Burkhardt, starts to Beetax and gets into debt. When his father (Joe McClurg), hears of this, he comes to the college to straighten things out.

Mr. Goodnow is met by Madame Louise (Mildred Wills), a beauty specialist, and employed by Mr. Goodnow to report on his sons' behavior, by Bobby (Margaret Agnew), a spitfire co-ed, and by Tommy (Kenneth McDowell), a serious minded student. Spencer was told to work his way through school.

Porky (Bob Yelton), loans Spencer money for his debts, the money being advanced by Mr. Goodnow.

Because of the attitude of his creditors, Spencer decides to leave college. Carrie, an old-fashioned girl, is Ma Jenkins' foster child and also goes to Beetax, the money being furnished by an unknown aunt. She chides Spencer for being a quitter. Carrie is played by Delores Goans, and Ma Jenkins is played by Blanche Smith.

Porky gives the plan away. When Spencer learns of this, he upbraids his friends and refuses the loan. Carrie pays the creditors with her savings and convinces him that he should stay and earn the money to pay her back.

Spencer and Porky open a service station and with this income pay his debts before commencement.

Spencer, who never forgave Carrie, treats her harshly, and she leaves before the day of the lawn fete Ma Jenkins is giving. After Carrie leaves, Bobby tells Spencer that she had no part in the plot.

Madam Louise catches Carrie before she reaches the train. Back at the lawn fete it is discovered that Madam Louise is Spencer's mother and the aunt of both Carrie and Bobby.

At the end Carrie forgives Spencer. Bobby and Tommy, who quarrel all through the play, decide to go on quarreling the rest of their lives. And so the story ends in the approved manner.

The Senior Dance . . .

At last the Senior Dance, that night of revelry and mad capering, rolled around. Three hundred couples of Jeff students, friends, and alumni danced from nine until one o'clock to the music of Byron Dunbar and his Hotel Biltmore orchestra. The music was arranged in the currently popular manner that added to the enjoyment of an already exciting evening.

The colors chosen by the decoration committee, blue and white were carried out beautifully. A large blue, false ceiling composed of a rectangular center piece, approximately one-eighth as large as the gym, with twisted blue and white streamers radiating to all corners of the ballroom, was the outstanding decorative feature of the dance. The clever lighting effects converted the dance floor into a veritable fairyland of color and brilliancy.

The programs, which were blue and white, had a little dancing couple outlined on the front.

The Grand March, a tradition of the Senior Dance, was led by the class President, Harold Dicks, and chairman of the dance committee Jim Metzger with their charming partners.

This dance was made possible by the various committees under the guidance of Jim Metzger, assisted by Miss Slayback, Mr. Wills, Mr. Morgan, Mr. Taylor, and Mr. Miller.

Left to right: D. Burkhardt, P. Herod, D. Korty, M. Agnew, J. Young, J. Bahls, J. Metzger, M. Molke, J. McClurg, B. Hudson, D. Prass, C. Bass, B. Brand, A. Long, R. Emerson, J. Pearlman.

The Senior Play . . .

Backstage on the evenings of March 13 and 14, 1941, in the auditorium of Jeff, at precisely 8 p. m., everyone was in his place ready for the curtains to part on "Young April". The houselights were dimmed, and everyone awaited breathlessly for the opening lines.

Every year there are different persons acting out the parts of the leading roles, the stage technicians, the properties committee, and all the other various committees necessary to put on such a play. For months ahead of the set date for the opening evening, the play is rehearsed over and over again so it will be word perfect, and it has always been just that. Mrs. Clark was the able and capable director of the play, while without Mr. Wills and Mr. McAdams to furnish the lights and music nothing would have been complete.

The parts had been perfectly fitted by the excellent judgment of the interested part of the faculty. There was Joe McClurg as Professor McIntyre. . . . He played his part better than anyone else could have played it. (We knew he had it in him). Marian Molke took the part of his wife, a charming and understanding character. George McIntyre, portrayed by Jim Metzger, in the leading comic role of the play, came through with a fine performance. Terry, his sister, played by Betty Hudson, seemed another perfectly fitted part.

With the acknowledgment of all other portrayed parts in the play, and of the outside help that we were so happy to receive, we leave you in memory lane until next Senior Play day.

BAND

A few years ago Mr. McAdams came to Jefferson to take up duties as band master. As an experienced director he introduced some new ideas into the State marching contests, and the competitive schools have been struggling against Jeff for first division. Soloist for the Purdue band and also first chair at Culver Military Academy accounts for his fine training of the boys for marching competition and for having the reputation as one of the finest bands in the country. Mr. McAdams has written several marches and also composed a march in which the student body yelling section can participate. On vacation he travels, visiting and studying in the various music camps.

JHS

The 1940-41 band season was the most successful since its organization. The Jefferson Band won the 1940 State Concert contest held at Evansville and also won third place at the National Contest at Battle Creek, Michigan. The marching band made its second national showing at Battle Creek and carried off top honors in first division as in 1938 at the National at Elkhart. The band gave its marching exhibition during the halves at the football games. Many difficult maneuvers were executed with their two alternating drum majors, John Rauch and Roy Miner. Another feature of the marching season was those three strutting majorettes, Katherine Evans, Mary Vaughan and Marge Vaughan. Perhaps the most appreciative gift was that presented by the Lafayette Veterans of Foreign Wars. A set of colors, a beautiful American flag, and the first official school flag was presented at a very impressive ceremony on the Jeff field. During the season a color squad made up of James Rogers, James Bradshaw, Douglas Buck, and Dean Henderson carried the colors.

The most colorful and gay event of the band year is the annual band dance held in the Elks' ballroom after the state and national contest. Band members in their striking military uniforms and the beautiful decorations make this one of the most enjoyable occasions of the year.

The requirements for membership consist of only the ability to play music for the state contest. The total membership is 100. We're proud of our band and hope for great bands in the future.

THE 1940 RED AND BLACK REVUE

Presented by

The Students and Faculty of Jefferson High School

Lafayette, Indiana

RED and

The 1940 Red and Black Revue was held on Friday, November 8, in the school gym. A crowd of 4,500 enjoyed this affair, held annually by students of Jefferson High School who have been coached by teachers of Jeff. The event is always looked forward to by teachers and students alike.

The Revue opened with a talented group of dancers in the act, "Sophisticated Swing", a product of the Home Economics, Industrial Arts, and Commercial Departments, directed by Miss Florer, chairman, Miss Peirce, Miss Wagner, and Mr. Hammons. The music for this act was furnished by an up-and-coming high school orchestra, "The Magicians of Melody". Scenes from this act are in pictures 4 and 8.

The second act, directed by Miss Aldridge and Miss Tubbs of the Physical Education Department, was "The Story Book Tumblers". This act was well coached and was repeated later in the year for the Good Fellows' Christmas Party. It depicted all of the well-known childhood nursery rhyme characters, as shown in pictures 2 and 9.

The next act, following a specialty by Jane Gaunt and Marilyn Graves, was "Down South American Way", which in a clever way showed America's association with our Latin-American neighbors, as well as their customs of singing and dancing. The act was ably directed by Miss Anderson, Mr. Hadley, Mr. Carroll, and Mrs. Clark. The la Conga chorus was used in the Christmas Party. This performance by members of the English, Language, and Art departments, included acts three and four. A picture of a specialty dance of the act is shown in picture 10.

A specialty of singing and guitar playing by La Von Hilt followed this act.

Picture 3 shows a part of the Science and Mathematics Act, "A Fluorescent Fantasy" directed by Miss Seever and Mr. Dobelbower. It included dancing and singing choruses, a whistler, guitar players, and was in all a gay and rhythmic act. A feature of this was the Fluorescent Tap Chorus which used the glow of fluorescent paint for a marvelous effect. A specialty number by The Humming-Bird Trio followed.

The final act by the Social Studies Department was directed by Miss Fletemeyer and Mr. Harbaugh. Its title "Our Country! Of Thee I Sing!" gives an idea of the type of act it was. It portrayed the origin of the national anthem and several soloists and choruses sang songs of tribute to our nation. It was a marvelous finale for a fine evening's entertainment.

Thanks must certainly be extended to the Red and Black Revue Orchestra directed by B. A. McAdams, to stage technicians, to the student printers for programs and advertising, and to all deserving of thanks.

Bette Heath, Editor-in-Chief

The Nautilus staff has put in many laborious hours to make this book one you will all appreciate and be proud to possess. It has been the custom of the Nautilus to record and to recall to the student his many happy hours spent at Jeff. In turning these pages we sincerely hope you will find not only these memories but also a pictorial account of the events of the school year. This volume is presented to you with the hope that it contains a complete record of all that our splendid school has achieved this year in activities, organizations, athletics, and scholastic ability.

The staff wishes to take this opportunity to thank the entire student body for their response to our subscription campaign and for their intense interest in the book. Appreciation is also expressed to the merchants for their support in the advertising section which aided in making the book a financial succes. We are grateful to all the teachers and students who so willingly helped; the typists who type the copy used in the book; the prophets, will makers, historians, and those who helped with the organization write-ups; the printers and engravers, and all those whose contributions were so helpful and necessary for success.

"Be to its virtues ever kind,
And to its faults a little blind."

Calendar, 1940-41 .

September 9 . . . School starts. What a handsome tan some of our pals have acquired with old Sol's help.

September 20 . . . Football season starts. Doesn't it get you all steamed up? Finishing on the long end of a 25-0 score against those huge Manual boys brings that wonderful victory feeling back again. Nice, isn't it?

October 21 . . . Quiet, please! We're starting all over to make those good resolutions about buckling down to work after seeing our report cards.

October 4 . . . Norma Ballard Convo. The popular lady once again charmed Jeff students into being their rowdiest.

October 4 . . . The majorettes' first appearance! A new appeal is definitely added to the band since those three charming little misses in their smart new uniforms became a part of it.

October 16 . . . "Prologue to Glory" convo. Isn't it a pity that all history couldn't be presented like that? It made Abe Lincoln, Anne Rutledge, and Stephen Douglas seem like real people, yes?

October 25 . . . Vacation days again! Gives us a good chance to finish our Red and Black Revue costume. Hope the teachers enjoy it as much as we do.

November 8 . . . Oh joy! Oh glee! For the fifth time another Red and Black Revue went over big after many rehearsals and hard work. How many Booster Dance dates resulted from these interesting (hm-mm-mmm) practices? Congas, rhumbas, and dancing in the dark with magicians of melody all combined in one production.

November 12 . . . West Side game. We all shivered and shook in everything from riding breeches to fur lined hoods and boots and "stuffed" on hot dogs at the half to revive our chilly veins. Only the day postponement forced us to let "de guys across de river" escape with a scoreless tie.

November 15 . . . Booster Dance. Words can't express the gratitude we felt toward the Booster staff. Need I say more?

November 22 . . . Opening of the basketball season and return of "that old feeling."

December 19 . . . Broncoette Gallop! Excuse us while we laugh just thinking of some of those corsages on certain ultra dignified males. Ha! Ha!

December 23 . . . Christmas vacation! Isn't it amazing how some dates on the calendar just can't come soon enough.

January 22 . . . "Song Hits of 1941 B. C." Somehow or other, that music made us feel like grabbing a veil and a snake and just leaving the rest to our impulses!

January 27, 28 . . . Finals. The midnight oil supply gets slimmer and slimmer. It's rumored even Hitler protested to Mr. McCarty.

January 28 . . . Hard Times Dance. The costumes sort of made a warmer atmosphere. If every worthy cause could be helped in this way, it sure would be a better world!

February 3 . . . They're here again! Who? Why the "greenies" of course. Maybe we're wrong but each crop seems to get smaller and smaller.

February 14 . . . Hallelujah! "Our boys" did it again. They beat the Hot Dogs in their own stand! That bus load of loyal supporters sure helped. Quite a fracas after the game and several "beeg, black eyes" as a result.

February 15 . . . A new idea and we're all for it. Hi-Y Queen of Hearts Dance. Will you be my valentine? Any day, if it's Dottie Kamp, the Queen, asking. Wasn't it all too, too romantic.

February 19 . . . Georgina Ballina convo. The little Latin dancer really had what it takes. At least, that's what the stronger (?) sex thought!

February 21 . . . Bandana Hop. Those gay bandanas given by the G.A.C. sure looked cute adorning all you "stags and hags" in the cafeteria.

March 1 . . . Jeff-West Side mixer with a West Side orchestra after that thrilling sectional finale. Just to show we've "buried the hatchet."

March . . . Tourney time. We're disappointed because our voice is still perfect after that hair raising overtime battle with the Lebanon Tigers, even if we did almost faint with suspense! That big leather ball and all it stands for just seems to get in our blood.

March 12 . . . Kasmayer convo. One man who will be an "All-American" to us any day. It was really swell (yes, that's what we mean) to see a lecturer, talking on a serious subject, hold the close attention of Jeff students for a solid hour.

March 13, 14 . . . "Young April" arrived after several changes in schedule. It was fun seeing all those "hidden personalities" uncovered before they left these halls for good.

March 14 . . . Big pep session. To show they are really behind us, West Side's coach, superintendent, and yell leader came over and wished us luck. We sure appreciated it. Getting down late for the snake dance, we though the police were interfering only to find they were leading the whole thing. Not bad!

March 15 . . . We went and did it again. We're at Hammond for the semi-finals. Some how and some town! (Does this bring back memories of "Delores"?)

March 19 . . . Tommy Tucker in person or "Tarzan calling his mate" if you listened outside. Wouldn't he a handy person to call on to liven up a dead party?

March 27, 28 . . . Spring vacation. What a joke! Cool and drizzly after wonderful weather just seems to be our luck. And didn't we grumble because West Side got out a whole week! Woe is me.

April 29, 30 . . . "Carrie Goes to College." Another one of those "super-duper" Jeff productions. This one was sponsored by the music societies and had rhumbas, waltzes, gingham girls, and petite Japanese misses. This year we really went in for furthering friendly world relations!

May 9 . . . Superiors' Ball (in Senior's language) or Senior Dance (in our simple words). Really "delish", and didn't the whole thing make you feel like a will o' the wisp in an enchanted fairyland? But of course, you were there!

May 26 . . . Band Dance. The last formal of the year—hi, ho!

To Our Advertisers

It is with the deepest gratitude that we thank you for the splendid way in which you have helped to make possible the publication of the 1941 NAUTILUS. May the money you have spent advertising in this book bring profitable returns.

To The Parents

The merchants who have advertised in this book have done so hoping that you, too, as well as your son or daughter, will read their ad. May we ask you to remember them?

To The Students

The staff has made every effort to make this the best NAUTILUS ever . . . but we want you to know that without the help from the merchants who have advertised in the NAUTILUS the chances are you would now be reading a small pamphlet instead of a 136 page book —need we say more?

OF

Jefferson High School

Last Will and Testament

We, the 1941 Senior Class of Jefferson High School, being of sound mind and memory and of a disposing disposition, do hereby declare this to be our last will and testament, and we now dispose of all of our property.

We hereby nominate and appoint Charles Reynolds, Wesley Peters, and Daniel Hostetler, as executors of our last will and testament.

Margaret Jones will her charming musical voice to all who will enjoy it. . . Jean Album wills her modest appearance, quiet voice, and charming manners to Pat Hudson. . . . Betty Jo Allen wills her dimples (?) to Jane Ulm. . . . Herbert Anderson wills the Andrew twins to Tom Driscoll. . . . Johnnie Anderson wills his will to skip school to Pat Bauer. . . . Phyllis Appleman wills her charming shyness to those who are always uncomfortable. . . . Betty Armstrong, Mary Barstow, and Ruth Basey will their school spirit to the honor of dear old Jeff. . . . Janet Bahls wills her beautiful blond hair to brunette Babette Zimmerman. . . . Charlotte Bass wills her big footed boy-friend to Betty Bohannan. . . . Isabelle Bass doesn't will nutt'n to nobody. . . . Beautiful Betty Bauman, as far as we are concerned, may will herself to us. . . . Don Baumgardt wills his sleek hair-do to Henry Holmes. . . . Alice Beck, Ruth Borton, Phyllis Brouch, and Betty Lou Brown will to them that ain't out yet a toothful grin and a wistful wish that they too will get out in four years. . . . Chester Black will his freckles to Phil Harrison, (if there is room for any more). . . . William Billue, Jim Bonahan and Robert Bowen will their ability to get by to any other students who haven't as yet perfected that technique. . . . Doris Blickenstaff wills her beautiful black hair to none other than Danny Gay. . . . Bob Booth wills his corny cornet to dear old B. A. . . . Charles Bower wills his fleet feet to all future Jeff track teams. . . . Beverly (Bubbles) Brand wills her golden blond hair to little Billie Davis. . . . Jack Brand wills his Ben Hogan to Dick Pettit. . . . John Bryan, Jerry Bunn and Leon Brown will their intention of never being overworked to themselves. . . . Vivian Brown wills her operatic qualities to posterity. . . . Douglas Buck wills his gun totin' career to someone who wishes to join the Army. . . . Doris Buck, Maxine Buckles, Marietta Burkhardt, and Mary Ann Burkhalter have to do NOTHING in order to will. . . . Marjorie Burkhardt wills her mysterious gaze to those who are too envious in showing their thoughts. . . . Donna Lee Bugher wills her "OOMPH" (!) to Minola Hill. . . . Jimmy Burke wills his curly hair to K. Garrett. . . . Eddie Bumbleburg and Dick Burkhardt will their good old common sense (?) to Bob Sparrendahl. . . . Billie Butler and Elmer Butz will their masculine personalities to all their younger scatter-brains of Jeff. . . . Bob Cahill wills his brilliant brain to Gene Brown. . . . Duane Byrn wills his smirk to Jack Bonner. . . . Daisy Camp, Rose Mary Carter, Betty Cassini, and Martha Carr will their naturally nice personalities to some of the fading would-be wallflowers hereabouts. . . . Edward Carlson wills his ability to get there on time to some other last minute hall sprinter. . . . Margie (Musclebound) Cheeseman wills her superior finesse in the arts of tumbling to the members of the next Red and Black Revue. . . . Jack Clark wills his chewing gum and toothpick to George Snyder. . . . Dick Cole wills his drumsticks to Steve Rosenbaum. . . . Opal Mae Collins and Juanita Cornell will their pleasing personalities to Betty White. . . . Bernard Cors wills his "J" sweater with one stripe on the sleeve to all other potential athletes. . . . Dick Cors, John Corso, Bill Crane, and Jim Davis will their sophisticated airs to the now unsophisticated. . . . Pauline Courtney wills her friendly manners to any unfriendly person around Jeff. . . . Rachel Danley wills her height to Lois Tully. . . . Evelyn Dawson, Bette Edwards, Mary Jane Evans, and Shirley Deardorff will their sincerity to Jeanne Krabbe. (No one doesn't will that!) . . . Dick Deets wills her forensic ability to the W.C.T.U. . . . Robert Devault wills his present occupation to all you apprentice barkeepers. . . . Charles De Poyster and Jesse Gerber will a little book-learning to West Side. . . . Mary Devol wills her yell leader togs to the rooters of Jeff. . . . Martha Dexter wills Bob Wilson more magic words to keep him. . . . Mary Dillon wills his good old hobnailed shoes to the Salvation Army. . . . John Eckhart wills part of his awesome mental ability to all of the students who find it hard to make the grades. . . . Frank Eiser wills his band uniform to Dan Kahle for use next year. . . . Rosanna Emerson wills her desire to drive a car to all beginners. . . . Charles Fairchild wills his natural sense of humor (?) to Don Bahnsen. . . . Jack Farrell wills his best friend to find another boy friend in Jeff. . . . Patricia Farrell wills her lovely voice to some of our hall-screechers. . . .
